“My PhD advisor was Professor Stuart Bowyer of the University of California, Berkeley. He is now Emeritus there, although still very active. Bowyer's PhD comes from the Physics Department at the Catholic University of America. All of his research however was done at the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington DC, under the immediate oversight of Dr. Herbert Friedman, now deceased. I suspect it quite likely that Bowyer had a formal but uninvolved "advisor of record" on the faculty of Catholic University, but on this point I am uncertain ... Certainly the typical of my colleagues would assume that Friedman was his advisor.”
